Hi Julian,

My apologies for the lack of response. That's entirely down to me and my circumstances. Rather a lot has been going on with my family and so I'm at fault in part. It might be a couple more weeks till I get to typing up those minutes that you have requested. When they are done I will send a copy to you.

Kind regards,
Karen

Dear Karen,

I'm sorry for forwarding this email to your personal email address in the hope of a response, as my many previous emails to @atheistfoundation.org.au addresses regarding this request have gone unanswered.

I wouldn't like to think I've been black-listed, but that's how it looks.

Cheers,
Julian

Subject: RE: 2024 AFA AGM Minutes

Dear Secretary, et al,

It's over a fortnight since my last email and over a month since my initial request. Unfathomably, I've yet to receive even a simple acknowledgement of my previous three emails, let alone a copy of the 2024 AGM minutes.

The AFA's Constitution (Section 9.a.) requires recording said minutes within a month of the AGM, and, of course, I waited until a month after it before making my request.

I am at a loss to understand how the current AFA Committee of Management believes that it has any semblance of member focus when it cannot respond to a member's request in a timely fashion.

Not to mention that the AFA's communications to members are few and far between, apart from a small flurry before the AGMs. Perhaps that's because the AFA now seldom does anything to promote its aims and objectives worth reporting to members (the most recent Media Release on the AFA's website is over six months old!).

Admittedly, I'm not a fee-paying member, but having been honoured with a life membership for services rendered to the organisation, I believe I deeply understand the time, effort, and commitment required to make the organisation effective.

That's why I'm very disappointed in the President's Reports presented at the last two AGMs (if not for longer), stating that the CoM members have difficulty finding the time, commitment, and dedication to run the organisation.

I also note that at the 2024 AGM, the only reports tabled were:

- President's Report
- Secretary's Report
- Incorporated Association Report (formerly the Financial Statement)

At the 2023 AGM, they were:

- President's report
- Secretary's Report
- Treasurer's Report
- Communications Report
- Financial Statement

When I was involved in the AFA, these are the reports that were usually tabled at an AGM (and except for the Financial Statement, also at the monthly committee member meetings):

- President's Report
- Secretary's Report
- Treasurer's Report
- Membership Officer's Report
- Magazine Editor's Report
- Website Administrator's Report
- Forum Administrator's Report
- Communications Team Report
- Social Media Group's Report

- Financial Statement

To me, this indicates a continuing downward spiral in the CoM's interest in the organisation's functioning.

If you must repeatedly tell your members you're having trouble finding time to run the organisation effectively, then it's probably time to consider winding up the AFA.

You could pass on your now considerable funds (apparently mainly due to bequests) to some other organisation, such as the Rationalist Society of Australia, which regularly communicates with its members, is effective in its secular lobbying, and doesn't make excuses about how they can't do what their fee-paying members should expect (albeit much of the work done by one person, the remarkable Meredith Doig).

In my opinion, the AFA has been flogging a dead horse since around 2018.

Cheers,
Julian

Dear Secretary, et al,

I'm resending this from an alternate email address in case my decades-old "@mail.com" address is being treated as SPAM.
